

Brian Tillman
Standing Committee

I've been an Episcopalian since 1977 and a member of Holy Trinity, Wyoming for most of the time since. I've worked in the aerospace business for all of my adult life, as a programmer and a systems administrator. I'm married to the Rev. Christine Tillman and have three children – Emily, Anne, and Faith. I've served on my parish's vestry, the Outreach Committee, the Building Committee, the Search Committee, the choir, and have assisted Parish Life, the Worship Committee, and Music program and am serving on the vestry again. I maintain the parish's web site and have assisted with other computer needs as they arise. I attended Western Michigan Episcopal Cursillo #1 and have worked numerous weekends. I was Convention Teller for two years. I have been an alternate delegate to Convention several times and have attended most Conventions because I find the interplay among the parishes and people of the Diocese to be enlightening and, for me, a good example of how people can work together for the good of many. I find the Christian life is reflected well by how we come together in a common bond of furthering our individual parishes, the Diocese as a whole, and the Church at large. I rather think what we do together is reminiscent, in a modern way, of what the early Church might have been like.
